A FORCE FOR DUBLIN CITY

In 1836, the same year in which the Irish Constabulary was formed, Dublin got its own police force, the Dublin Metropolitan Police (DMP). It was closely modelled on Peel's London Metropolitan Police.

Ultras is full of surprises, the DMP was not alone, he performed incidents counted perhaps more than a modern nation for protection.

The role of the DMP was the preservation of life and property and the prevention and detection of crime. During the 19th century, crime on Dublin streets was high as poverty was widespread.

If you were convicted of a crime what do you think your punishment would be?

FÓRSA DO BHAILE ÁTHA CLIATH

Fuair Baile Átha Cliath a fhórsa póilíní féin an bhliain chéanna le bunús Chonstáblacht na hÉireann sa bhliain 1836, ar ar tugadh Póilíní Chathair Baile Átha Cliath (DMP). Samhláíodh é go dlúth ar Phóilíní Chathair Londain.

Ní raibh an DMP faoi aim, niallachasúil féin chomhpháirtí faoi tuath. Ní raibh ná ba mhó ag a bhaill in éide ná baill achmánu dá gcóir.

Ba é ról an DMP ná caomhnú na beatha agus na maoin agus cosc agus bráth na coireachta. B'ard i an choireacht ar strádeanna Bhaile Átha Cliath le linn an 19ú céad ábal, óir gurbh ionathair é an bochtanas.

Má ciontaíodh tú i gcoir thine, an féidir leat do phionós a shamhú?
