Re: Freedom of Information Request FOI-000186-2016 Refused

Dear

I refer to the Freedom of Information Act 2014 (FOI Act) and your submission to An Garda Síochána dated 10th May and received on the 11th May 2016.

Part 1(n) of Schedule 1 of the FOI Act states that An Garda Síochána is listed as a partially included agency “insofar as it relates to administrative records relating to human resources, or finance or procurement matters”. Therefore, only administrative records that relate to human resources, finance or procurement shall be considered.

Your request is shown below:

*The number of officers who have failed the annual health and fitness assessment in each of the past five years.
Any documentation which shows how the fitness of garda fitness assessed Is Garda fitness assessed.*

I wish to inform you that I have decided to refuse your request on the 7th June 2016.

The purpose of this letter is to explain my decision.

1. Findings, particulars and reasons for decisions.

I am refusing your request under Section 15(1)(a) of the Freedom of Information Act 2014 as the records you have sought do not exist.

Section 15: Refusal on administrative grounds to grant FOI requests

"Section 15 (1) A head to whom an FOI request is made may refuse to grant the request where—

(a) the record concerned does not exist or cannot be found after all reasonable steps to ascertain its whereabouts have been taken,"

Members of An Garda Síochána do not undergo an annual health and fitness assessment. However, there is a Garda Occupational Health Service (GOHS) available to members where health and fitness is monitored.

The specialty of Occupational Health (OH) is concerned with how a worker's health impacts on his or her ability to do their job and how work and the work environment can affect workers' health. The role of the GOHS is to advise the Garda Commissioner on individual's fitness for duty, and to protect, maintain and promote the health of all Garda employees.

The GOHS is currently staffed by three full time specialist-trained occupational health physicians, four occupational health nurses and administrative staff. It delivers an evidence-based occupational health service by supporting and appropriately advising on the workplace rehabilitation of Garda employees who suffer ill-health. It offers work related health advice, promoting and protecting employee's health through relevant work-related health assessments.

Amongst other services, the GOHS provides medical reviews of Garda employees on sick leave to promote recovery and appropriate workplace rehabilitation in keeping with the Garda Síochána Sickness Absence Management Policy. It facilitates health and fitness assessment programs for members who require specialist training such as driving courses, firearms courses and training for Specialist Units. The Service facilitates the protection of members by putting procedures in place in the event of Occupational Blood and Body Fluid Exposures (OBBFE).

The Chief Medical Officer (CMO) advises An Garda Síochána regarding policy issues relating to work and health.
