Re: Freedom of Information Request FOI-000449-2023 Request Granted

Dear

I refer to your request, dated 28th December, 2023 and received on 29th December, 2023 which you have made under the Freedom of Information Act 2014 (FOI Act) for records held by An Garda Síochána.

Part 1(n) of Schedule 1 of the FOI Act states that An Garda Síochána is listed as a partially included agency "insofar as it relates to administrative records relating to human resources, or finance or procurement matters". Therefore, only administrative records that relate to human resources, finance or procurement shall be considered.

Your request sought:

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2014, I would like to request:

The total number of gardai who are currently suspended from duty, with a breakdown by the year in which they were suspended; along with a breakdown by the reason why they were suspended.

The total number of gardai who have been dismissed in each of the past five years, with a breakdown by year; along with a breakdown by the reason they were dismissed.

I wish to inform you that I have decided to part-grant your request on the 5th January 2024. The purpose of this letter is to explain that decision.

1. Findings, particulars and reasons for decision

Upon receipt, your request was forwarded to the relevant sections of An Garda Síochána Síochaná where searches have been conducted in respect of same.

Part 1 of your request is seeking “The total number of gardai who are currently suspended from duty, with a breakdown by the year in which they were suspended; along with a breakdown by the reason why they suspended.” The tables below detail the records sought.

In relation to part 2 of your request the following table details the records of Garda members by rank who were dismissed for the requested years.

The sections of the Act which may deny access to information are known as exemptions. As the number of dismissals is small, I am refusing to supply the reason for each individual dismissal in accordance with Section 37 of the FOI Act 2014. I am conscious of my obligations to retain personal information in a confidential and secure manner and prevent personal information from being released into the public domain unnecessarily. Personal information is defined at section 2 of the FOI Act and includes the following.

Section 2 – Interpretation

2. (1) In this Act—

“personal information” means information about an identifiable individual that, either—

(a) would, in the ordinary course of events, be known only to the individual or members of the family, or friends, of the individual, or

(b) is held by an FOI body on the understanding that it would be treated by that body as confidential, and, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, includes –

(iii) information relating to the employment or employment history of the individual

Section 37 – Personal Information

Section 37(1) provides that a public body shall refuse to grant a request if access to the record concerned would involve the disclosure of personal information. The release of the member’s reason for dismissal could allow for a person(s) to become more identifiable and possibly named in the public domain and is personal information. I am therefore applying section 37(1) Personal Information which states:

37(1) Subject to this section, a head shall refuse to grant an FOI request if, in the opinion of the head, access to the record concerned would involve the disclosure of personal information (including personal information relating to a deceased individual)

As per Section 37 of the FOI Act, I have considered the public interest issues which arise in this case and have taken account of the following factors in favour of release:

Public Interest Test

As per section 37(5) of the FOI Act, I have considered the public interest issues which arise in this case and have taken account of the following factors in favour of release:

- Ensuring openness and transparency of Organisational functions to the greatest possible extent,
- The public interest in members of the public exercising their rights under the FOI Act,
- That there is more than just a transitory interest by the public in this information,
- The right to privacy is outweighed by the needs of the public.

In considering the public interest factors which favour withholding the records I have taken account of the following:

- Allowing a public body to hold personal information without undue access by members of the public,
- The public interest is not best served by releasing these records,
- That the Organisation can conduct its business in a confidential manner,
- That there is a reasonable and implied expectation by employees that sensitive personal information will remain confidential,
- That there is no overriding public interest that outweighs the individual's right to privacy.

A public interest was carried out when considering the release of the personal information. Having balanced the factors both for and against the release, I decided that the public interest in preserving the personal information and the reasonable expectation that information can be maintained in a confidential manner by An Garda Síochána in the context of its proceedings outweighs the public interest which would be served were the records released to you.
